

April is Poetry Month!

Websites to help you get started....

National Gallery of Writing

Tips for Teaching Poetry

POETRY Handouts

- HOLIDAY MEMORY in Verse
- Pantoum Poem Worksheet
- POETRY-African American History Month Project
- POETRY-Notebook
- POETRY DISCUSSION Questions
- POETRY - PATTERN POEM
- POETRY T.I.M.E. slide presentation for introducing the concept for reading, writing, and analyzing poetry.

Words, Words, Words

*Words stir me
When I hear them,
When I read them,
When I write them,
When I speak them.*

*Words urge me
To keep listening
To keep reading
To keep writing
To keep speaking.*

*Let me hear you,
so I can know
you.*

*Let me speak,
so you can know
me.*

Prodigiously stirring words

*help me know
you.*

And viscerally urging words

help me know me

by Anna J. Small Roseboro