

Self-Reflection and Projection – What Grade Now? What Grade Next Time?

Reflection on Progress in Semester 1 for _____ Look through your folder and notebook and then consider what you have learned so far this school year in each of the following areas. Neatly, record one thing you have learned to do better and one thing on which you will work this next quarter. Refer to something specific in your folder to support your claims of improvement. Use reverse side if necessary.

LANGUAGE ARTS SKILL	Rate 1-6 (low-hi)	What can you do better now than you could at the start of the semester?	On what will you work to improve during the next quarter? Be specific.
Reading Consider efficiency and comprehension, ability to interpret, analyze, evaluate what you read.
Writing (Six Point Rubric) Consider content - having something to write about, organization, development, and documentation.
Speaking Consider value of your contributions to class discussion. Consider respect for others as you speak. Consider ease with which you speak. Consider frequency with which you volunteer to speak.
Listening Consider how attentive you are to your classmates. Consider how well you follow directions. Consider how courteous you are to both classmates and teacher.
Study Skills Consider homework – all done? Drafts on time? Consider how often you come with text, notebook, pen and pencil.
Other What else shows how well you've progressed since the start of the school year?
Based on this reflection, what grade have you earned this term? How can I help you achieve your goals for the next quarter?
